We love: Clements Ribeiro's 2011 Cruise collection

Clements Ribeiro's 2011 Cruise capsule collection, Project

6, has the Brazilian husband-and-wife design team joining forces with the Museum of Everything to bring undiscovered art to the forefront of our wardrobes.

After hand-picking favourite pieces for Exhibition #4 at the eclectic, iconic museum, Clements Ribeiro incorporate whimsical illustrations into their feminine aesthetic. The result is a kaleidoscopic wardrobe of colour and monochromatic prints in the form of cutesy shift dresses, pencil skirts, slouchy trousers and three-quarter-sleeved tops. While the prints will get you noticed, the ladylike silhouettes and demure proportions keep things low-key and wearable.
