

ACM

By Ron Arad

Intricate assemblies of reclaimed beauty, bits that have served their time as super-efficient hidden components which now show us how beautiful they are, after work. I am not that methodical, not so focussed or organised, not that committed to a vision. Yes, we both like typewriter and radio parts. Like ACM, my father always collaborated and signed artworks with my mother.

Ron Arad
b 1951 (Israel)
architect, designer